Not illustrated. 1920 Excerpt: . keep on submitting this law until we get it passed, and get it passed as the department wants it, to control this situation. We will try to prevent the employment of children as much as possible in order that the county judges issue permits only to those who are compelled to assist in earning a livelihood for their crippled or sick parents. I have used the argument that this burden should not be placed on the babies of the land. The county judges simply glance at the law, and upon the sworn statement of a crippled mother or invalided parent they issue the permit. We have no other means of issuing permits except through the probate judges who have all juvenile matters in hand. Delegate. Will this new Federal law partially correct the feature which you complain of? Mr. Stewart. Miss Allen can answer any question about that law if you will ask her. Mr. Mtjhreadt. I am the chairman of the resolutions committee of the great social workers conference to be held at Atlantic City.I expect to leave to-morrow at 10 o clock. I have lived long enough to see that the things that we think are impossible will come to pass if we will apply ourselves. While it may be difficult for some States to get the law, it is no crime to attempt to get it. I would like to obtain the resolution relative to child labor so I can take it...
