*A must buy book if you need to adding benefit. It is really simplified but shocks in the 50 percent of the pdf. I found out this pdf from my i and dad recommended this publication to learn.

Not illustrated. 1903 Excerpt: $.3008 = \sin 17^\circ$, roughly, and the solar ecliptic limit is about $17^\circ 29'$. Major and Minor Ecliptic Limits.--Owing to the variations in the distances of the Sun and Moon their parallaxes and angular semi-diameters are not quite constant. Hence the exact limits of the Moon's latitude l , as calculated by the method of 291, are subject to small variations. This alone would render the ecliptic limits variable. But there is another cause of variation in the ecliptic limits, arising from the fact that i , the inclination of the Moon's orbit, is also variable, its greatest and least values being about $52'$ and $4^\circ 57'$. The greatest and least values of the limits for each kind of eclipse are called the Major and Minor Ecliptic Limits. For an eclipse of the Moon the major and minor ecliptic limits have been calculated to be about $12^\circ 5'$ and $9^\circ 30'$ respectively at the present time. For an eclipse of the Sun the limits are $18^\circ 31'$ and $15^\circ 21'$ respectively. Thus a lunar eclipse may take place if the Moon, when full, is within $12^\circ 5'$ of a node; and a lunar eclipse must take place if the full Moon is within $9^\circ 30'$ of a node. Similarly, a solar eclipse may take place if the Moon, when new, is within $18^\circ 31'$, and a solar eclipse must take place if the new Moon is within $15^\circ 21'$ of a node. The mean...
